

COLE'S CANDLE SNUFFED OUT.

CHARLES T. SAXTON NOMINATED FOR SENATOR IN THE TWENTY-EIGHTH.

EACH COUNTY IN THE DISTRICT PUT FORWARD A CANDIDATE.

Wayne's Choice Indorsed After 200 Ballots Had Been Taken and the Author of the Electoral Reform Bill Named Despite the Findings and Protests of the Ex-Speaker's Henchmen—Cole Very Sore Over His Defeat—The Ambition of Platt and Miller to Sit in the United States Senate the Cause of the Deadlock in the Twenty-third Senatorial Convention—Democratic Nominations.

HIS TREATY ILL-TREATED.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—There is great excitement here over the proposed treaty between the United States and the Hawaiian Government. The treaty is generally disapproved by the natives, and feeling is high against its promoters and supporters. It is generally regarded as an attempt to practically wipe out the sovereignty of the islands in the interest of the sugar-planters. Efforts have been made to induce the King to sign the treaty, but he refused on the ground that the treaty was not in accordance with the wishes of the Hawaiian people.

THE TRUSTEES ARE PLEASED.

Seth Low's Election to the Presidency of Columbia College.

The election of Seth Low to the Presidency of Columbia College has pleased the trustees, the alumni and the students alike. Since President Barnard's death last April it has been known among a select few that Mr. Low was a strong candidate for the place—in fact, he was one of several that President Barnard, before his death, expressed a wish might be selected as his successor. It was

SETT LOW.

Prof. J. Howard Van Dyke, Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, was also favored by President Barnard for the place, but after the trustees on Monday it was voted in favor of Mr. Low. It is a matter of public knowledge that President Barnard, in view of his official position, had not been officially notified of his election, therefore, when Mr. Van Dyke reported called to learn if he was to accept the office, he was told that, in view of his official position, Mr. Low had been selected as his successor. It was

THE FIRST TIME SHE HAS BEEN ABLE TO SPEAK FREELY TO A REPORTER AND TO GIVE HER SIDE OF THIS EXTRAORDINARY SCANDAL AND ROMANCE—HOW SHE MET ROBERT RAY HAMILTON, MARRIED HIM AND WAS BINCKMATTED BY "JOSH" HANN AND HIS MOTHER—THEY KNEW HER PAST LIFE AND THREATENED TO TELL HER HUSBAND—HE DID NOT BELIEVE HER ALTOGETHER BUT SHE WAS AN ACTRESS FOR A YEAR, AND FOR A TIME WAS WITH THE FLORENCE—UNTRUTHS ABOUT HER BIRTH AND HER EXPLANATIONS ABOUT HER BABY AND OTHER BABIES—WHY SHE DIDN'T TELL THIS STORY ON HER TRIAL—HER DIAMONDS.

MRS. EVA HAMILTON'S STORY.

SHE TALKS FULLY TO "NELLIE BLY" IN TRENTON STATE PRISON.

REMARKABLE STATEMENTS, IF TRUE, OF HER LIFE BEFORE AND AFTER MARRIAGE.

SHE SAYS SHE DIDN'T WANT TO MARRY HAMILTON, AND TELLS WHY.

The First Time She Has Been Able to Speak Freely to a Reporter and to Give Her Side of This Extraordinary Scandal and Romance—How She Met Robert Ray Hamilton, Married Him and Was Binckmatted by "Josh" Hann and His Mother—They Know Her Past Life and Threatened to Tell Her Husband—He Did Not Believe Her Altogether But She Was an Actress for a Year, and for a Time Was with the Florence—Untruths About Her Birth and Her Explanations About Her Baby and Other Babies—Why She Didn't Tell This Story on Her Trial—Her Diamonds.

THE TRUSTEES ARE PLEASED.

Seth Low's Election to the Presidency of Columbia College.

The election of Seth Low to the Presidency of Columbia College has pleased the trustees, the alumni and the students alike. Since President Barnard's death last April it has been known among a select few that Mr. Low was a strong candidate for the place—in fact, he was one of several that President Barnard, before his death, expressed a wish might be selected as his successor. It was

SETT LOW.

Prof. J. Howard Van Dyke, Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, was also favored by President Barnard for the place, but after the trustees on Monday it was voted in favor of Mr. Low. It is a matter of public knowledge that President Barnard, in view of his official position, had not been officially notified of his election, therefore, when Mr. Van Dyke reported called to learn if he was to accept the office, he was told that, in view of his official position, Mr. Low had been selected as his successor. It was

THE FIRST TIME SHE HAS BEEN ABLE TO SPEAK FREELY TO A REPORTER AND TO GIVE HER SIDE OF THIS EXTRAORDINARY SCANDAL AND ROMANCE—HOW SHE MET ROBERT RAY HAMILTON, MARRIED HIM AND WAS BINCKMATTED BY "JOSH" HANN AND HIS MOTHER—THEY KNEW HER PAST LIFE AND THREATENED TO TELL HER HUSBAND—HE DID NOT BELIEVE HER ALTOGETHER BUT SHE WAS AN ACTRESS FOR A YEAR, AND FOR A TIME WAS WITH THE FLORENCE—UNTRUTHS ABOUT HER BIRTH AND HER EXPLANATIONS ABOUT HER BABY AND OTHER BABIES—WHY SHE DIDN'T TELL THIS STORY ON HER TRIAL—HER DIAMONDS.

MRS. EVA HAMILTON'S STORY.

SHE TALKS FULLY TO "NELLIE BLY" IN TRENTON STATE PRISON.

REMARKABLE STATEMENTS, IF TRUE, OF HER LIFE BEFORE AND AFTER MARRIAGE.

SHE SAYS SHE DIDN'T WANT TO MARRY HAMILTON, AND TELLS WHY.

The First Time She Has Been Able to Speak Freely to a Reporter and to Give Her Side of This Extraordinary Scandal and Romance—How She Met Robert Ray Hamilton, Married Him and Was Binckmatted by "Josh" Hann and His Mother—They Know Her Past Life and Threatened to Tell Her Husband—He Did Not Believe Her Altogether But She Was an Actress for a Year, and for a Time Was with the Florence—Untruths About Her Birth and Her Explanations About Her Baby and Other Babies—Why She Didn't Tell This Story on Her Trial—Her Diamonds.

THE TRUSTEES ARE PLEASED.

Seth Low's Election to the Presidency of Columbia College.

The election of Seth Low to the Presidency of Columbia College has pleased the trustees, the alumni and the students alike. Since President Barnard's death last April it has been known among a select few that Mr. Low was a strong candidate for the place—in fact, he was one of several that President Barnard, before his death, expressed a wish might be selected as his successor. It was

SETT LOW.

Prof. J. Howard Van Dyke, Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, was also favored by President Barnard for the place, but after the trustees on Monday it was voted in favor of Mr. Low. It is a matter of public knowledge that President Barnard, in view of his official position, had not been officially notified of his election, therefore, when Mr. Van Dyke reported called to learn if he was to accept the office, he was told that, in view of his official position, Mr. Low had been selected as his successor. It was

THE FIRST TIME SHE HAS BEEN ABLE TO SPEAK FREELY TO A REPORTER AND TO GIVE HER SIDE OF THIS EXTRAORDINARY SCANDAL AND ROMANCE—HOW SHE MET ROBERT RAY HAMILTON, MARRIED HIM AND WAS BINCKMATTED BY "JOSH" HANN AND HIS MOTHER—THEY KNEW HER PAST LIFE AND THREATENED TO TELL HER HUSBAND—HE DID NOT BELIEVE HER ALTOGETHER BUT SHE WAS AN ACTRESS FOR A YEAR, AND FOR A TIME WAS WITH THE FLORENCE—UNTRUTHS ABOUT HER BIRTH AND HER EXPLANATIONS ABOUT HER BABY AND OTHER BABIES—WHY SHE DIDN'T TELL THIS STORY ON HER TRIAL—HER DIAMONDS.

MRS. EVA HAMILTON'S STORY.

SHE TALKS FULLY TO "NELLIE BLY" IN TRENTON STATE PRISON.

DIED AS HE LEFT THE STAGE.

ACTOR CHARLES B. BISHOP MADE HIS LAST EXIT AT THE LYCEUM.

"Healthy, Wealthy and Wise" Were the Last Words He Spoke—He Fainted in the Wings and Died in His Wife's Arms in His Dressing-Room—The Audience Dismissed with the Sorrowful Tidings.

"Healthy, wealthy and wise! Ho wise—oh, Lord!"

With these words Actor Charles B. Bishop passed off the stage at the close of his first scene at the Lyceum Theatre last night. A moment afterwards he fainted in the wings, was borne to the dressing-room of Stage Manager Tully Marshall, and in five minutes was dead.

Dr. Tully Marshall, Dr. J. H. Marshall, Fourth street, and another physician were hurriedly sent for, but when they arrived they found that their services were of no avail. Meanwhile the large audience, to every one of which Mr. Bishop's fall had been audible, was becoming nervous over the ill-concealed agitation of those upon the stage. Mr. Sothorn, who was on duty at the scene, came forward and announced that Mr. Bishop had been taken slightly ill, but would in all probability be able to resume his part.

The next sensation was caused by an excited usher, who rushed down the aisle to where Manager Frohman sat and told him that he was wanted at once behind the scenes. Mr. Frohman hurried from his seat, and shortly afterwards Mr. Sothorn reappeared upon the stage with the complete and entire remains of Mr. Bishop, who had been taken to the dressing-room where he first fainted on the stage above, and lay until he was revived.

When the doctor pronounced further aid to be useless, the lights were lowered, and the body of the actor was borne to the morgue. He had completed a scene in the play "The Sign of the Cross" when he fainted, and he was taken to the dressing-room where he first fainted on the stage above, and lay until he was revived.

Mr. Bishop was born in Baltimore fifty-six years ago, and was the elder of two sons of a physician. He originally intended to follow the medical profession, and was in the first year of his course at the University of Maryland when he was struck by a paralytic stroke, which rendered him unable to practice, and he was obliged to give up the study of medicine. He then came to New York, and was employed as a clerk in the office of a lawyer. He was afterwards employed as a clerk in the office of a merchant, and was afterwards employed as a clerk in the office of a merchant.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

INDIANAPOLIS GOES DEMOCRATIC.

President Harrison's Home City Turns Republican Out of Office.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—President Harrison's home city went Democratic in the election to-day by handsome majorities, the Democratic electing the Mayor, City Clerk and a majority of the Common Council, giving them control of the city government.

HE IS A SECOND THENARDIER.

A Professional Beggar Who Moved in Society and Politics.

Police Justice Ford temporarily ended a modest but promising career last week by committing to the City Prison for six months the person of Mr. Max Solomon, alias Bellman, who was convicted of receiving money on false pretences.

She Had Already His Attention, Which She Warmly Returned—She Had Saved Him From Death Once Before—Dr. Eastman and Miss Dalziel Actors in a Romance Such as Seldom Occurs in Real Life.

A marriage announcement and a death notice sent to The World office last night suggested a romance such as is often found in books but seldom in real life. One stated that Oct. 7 at the Sturtevant House Miss Jeannette Dalziel, of Boston, was married to Dr. Seth Eastman, of Concord, N. H. The other stated that Oct. 8, at the Sturtevant House, Dr. Seth Eastman died. This morning the father of the deceased and the widow will bear the body to Concord for burial. Last night the father related the details of the romance.

Dr. Eastman had been employed for some years as a surgeon in the Rotterdam line of steamships when, a year ago last September, he landed in Amsterdam, apparently a perfectly healthy man. As usual, being possessed of unusual attractions in manner and conversation, he had many friends among the passengers. During the last days of the voyage the other passengers had noticed that in the case of Miss Jeannette Dalziel, a trained nurse of Boston and a lady of education and refinement, these attractions appeared to be mutual to an interesting degree.

Soon after landing Dr. Eastman walked to a hotel to call on one of the passengers and ran into a sudden hemorrhage which brought him to death's door in less than a minute. Miss Dalziel, who was stopping at the same hotel, was almost the first to reach the side of the stricken man, and it was three weeks before she left him for an hour. The slightest movement started the hemorrhage afresh. Miss Dalziel's nursing was a matter of skill and devotion. Without her aid the doctors would have deemed the case hopeless.

Slowly Dr. Eastman's lungs recovered from the shock of the hemorrhage, but constant attention was necessary to prevent its recurrence. Miss Dalziel gave that attention, and daily the attachment between them grew stronger. When the patient was able to sit up it became evident that the warmth of a semi-tropical country would restore him to health. His sister, who had arrived from Concord, at once determined to take him to the Barbadoes. Even now a trained nurse was necessary, and there was but one trained nurse in the world for Dr. Eastman, and that was Miss Dalziel. Dr. Eastman in a few days accompanied the patient and his sister to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Miss Dalziel's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

MARRIED ON HIS DEATH-BED.

A SURGEON, IN HIS LAST HOURS, GIVES HIS NAME TO HIS FAITHFUL NURSE.

She Had Already His Attention, Which She Warmly Returned—She Had Saved Him From Death Once Before—Dr. Eastman and Miss Dalziel Actors in a Romance Such as Seldom Occurs in Real Life.

A marriage announcement and a death notice sent to The World office last night suggested a romance such as is often found in books but seldom in real life. One stated that Oct. 7 at the Sturtevant House Miss Jeannette Dalziel, of Boston, was married to Dr. Seth Eastman, of Concord, N. H. The other stated that Oct. 8, at the Sturtevant House, Dr. Seth Eastman died. This morning the father of the deceased and the widow will bear the body to Concord for burial. Last night the father related the details of the romance.

Dr. Eastman had been employed for some years as a surgeon in the Rotterdam line of steamships when, a year ago last September, he landed in Amsterdam, apparently a perfectly healthy man. As usual, being possessed of unusual attractions in manner and conversation, he had many friends among the passengers. During the last days of the voyage the other passengers had noticed that in the case of Miss Jeannette Dalziel, a trained nurse of Boston and a lady of education and refinement, these attractions appeared to be mutual to an interesting degree.

Soon after landing Dr. Eastman walked to a hotel to call on one of the passengers and ran into a sudden hemorrhage which brought him to death's door in less than a minute. Miss Dalziel, who was stopping at the same hotel, was almost the first to reach the side of the stricken man, and it was three weeks before she left him for an hour. The slightest movement started the hemorrhage afresh. Miss Dalziel's nursing was a matter of skill and devotion. Without her aid the doctors would have deemed the case hopeless.

Slowly Dr. Eastman's lungs recovered from the shock of the hemorrhage, but constant attention was necessary to prevent its recurrence. Miss Dalziel gave that attention, and daily the attachment between them grew stronger. When the patient was able to sit up it became evident that the warmth of a semi-tropical country would restore him to health. His sister, who had arrived from Concord, at once determined to take him to the Barbadoes. Even now a trained nurse was necessary, and there was but one trained nurse in the world for Dr. Eastman, and that was Miss Dalziel. Dr. Eastman in a few days accompanied the patient and his sister to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Miss Dalziel's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.

Dr. Eastman's wife, in the Barbadoes, was a devoted and kind woman, and Dr. Eastman in a few months regained his health. He returned to the Barbadoes, and in a few months he had been reached the sister knew that she had become a nurse.